

Dear Parents,

Today is our "sailing up" day! Grade 3 is a fun-filled adventure! It may seem scary to some of you, because you have heard many different things about it. We do have more books, our book bags become heavier, and we do have more homework. We must also spend more time studying. Anything new takes hard work and practice. The important thing is to do your best! If you listen to the teacher, do your homework carefully, and review what you learn in class, you'll be off to a great start! We will have an exciting year together! Have a wonderful summer!

See you in September!

Mrs. O'Connor and Ms. Herbert
